

To commemorate the fourth anniversary of the announcement of the merger, APFA will conduct Valentine's Day picketing on February 14th, at AA headquarters in Dallas Fort Worth as well as airports at CLT, LAX, and MIA to protest the broken promises made to employees and customers prior to the merger.

Without the support of labor, the merger would not have happened. We were promised a relatively quick integration and a share in the synergies created by the merge, neither of which has happened, resulting in a substandard product for customers and a continued source of tension for front-line employees.

While we, once again, wait for an arbitrator to decide our collective worth, we call on American Airlines to make good on their pre-merger promise to end the toxic culture between employees and management. This starts with a commitment to invest the resources necessary to end the plethora of problems plaguing our segregated workgroup including:

- Record high profits and executive compensation while Flight Attendants lag the industry in pay
- Uniforms that are suspected of causing serious reactions in a growing number of our members
- Fatigue inducing trips and horrendous bid sheets
- Frequent IT meltdowns affecting bidding, scheduling, and operational systems
- Administrative snafus and errors that affect our paychecks
- Substandard hotels & transportation
- A non-fully implemented contract with no definitive timelines for Full Operational Integration
- Ever-growing reserve lists and related legality issues
- Increased reassignments & reschedules
- Crew tracking incompetence

In addition to our main focus on AA Headquarters at DFW, the APFA Board of Directors decided to conduct picketing at CLT, LAX, and MIA in an effort to heighten media exposure and provide Flight Attendants with additional opportunities to participate.

Save the date and join us at a base near you to express your displeasure and call on management to step up their game and make good on their promise to run a world class airline that truly values its people.

NOTE: For those who cannot make it to one of the live picketing events outlined below, we have set up a Virtual Picket Event accessible on the APFA website and APFA Facebook Page for members to express their support and solidarity.

CLT

February 14, 2017

1100—1400 ET*

Upper Level Between

Terminals C & D

Sign-In Table On Site

*Tentative Times Pending
Permit Approval

DFW

February 14, 2017

1100—1500 CT

AA HDQ Centreport

4333 Amon Carter Blvd.

APFA will provide transportation
between DFW Airport and HDQ every 30 minutes beginning at 1000CT until 1400 CT

Pickup: Upper Level Terminal D
End of terminal near Gate 1
Also Picking up at Trinity Rail
Express, Centreport Station

LAX

February 14, 2017

1100—1500 PT

Terminal 4

Departure Level

Sign-In Table Between

Terminal 4 &

International Terminal

(TBIT)

MIA

February 14, 2017

1300—1630 ET

Terminal D

Upper Level

Sign-In On Site

